Who is Squidll for?

Are you looking for a general language solution for your team? With Squidll you choose for customised support regardless of the needs, language level or roles on your team:

- Ad hoc language support for those who occasionally want to call upon the expertise of a coach.
- On-demand instant support for concrete situations (presentation, evaluation interview, pitch, etc.).
- Flexible support for those whose schedules are too busy for weekly lessons.
- Coaching of specific skills (e.g. presenting, telephoning, etc.).
- Online language training for every level, from beginner to advanced

How does Squidll work?

Choosing Squidll is choosing for flexibility.

Buy credits for your team and assign them to your employees. Next, they get to book their sessions with the language coaches of their choice in three easy steps.

Find a coach.

Find a coach who matches your needs and filter by domain, topic or availability.

Book a session.

Found your match? Book your session at a time that suits you. Your coach confirms your request as soon as possible.

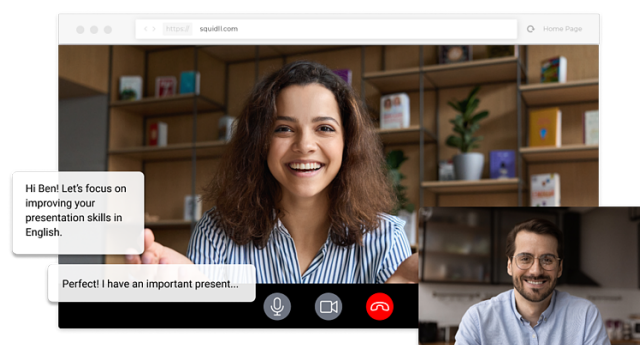

Get started.

Log in and start your session. After the session, you can watch the recording and continue practising with AI-generated exercises.

Boost the language skills of your team.

Choose on-demand online language support tailored to your team or company.

Our coaches support your employees to help overcome language barriers and to reach their professional goals.
